My name is Glenda , I live in Melbourne and have walked the journey through marriage separation and divorce over the past 18 months with my son and lived the emotional trauma associated with it.

We had engaged a lawyer but seemed to be getting nowhere ,not having an understanding of all the legal, financial and emotional issues involved in the process.

Then in November last year we noticed a small advertisement in the daily Sun - Aussie Divorce - and sent for it .

The cost was $349 for the CD and book which has been written in an easy to follow version explaining all you need to know from start to finish .

If only we had known of this package earlier we could have saved thousands of dollars in legal fees and been armed with so much knowledge all for the cost of

One hour with a lawyer.

The author, having travelled this road himself has written this book to help other Australians deal with this emotional and expensive journey.

Also available are the - Managing your Divorce manuals - for recording all your correspondence ,Court documents etc, so as to have everything at your fingertips for quick reference . These too are invaluable.
